LOCAL AND PERSONAL

G. G. Blakely went to Prescott this morning on business.

The inside work on the courthouse will be completed this week.

Henry P. Ewing is in Prescott as inspector in the U. S. court.

Work has been commenced on the extension of the Lake building.

John A. Smithline is in from his Lucky mine near Mineral Park.

Mr. James Rosborough is taking in peaches of the midwinter fair.

Isabel Cruzier and family were registered at the Ross House, San Francisco, last week.

J. Fancher, local land agent of the Pacific and Pacific road, was in Kingman Tuesday.

Joe Eshom went to San Francisco Sunday night on a visit to the winter fair.

Mr. F. W. Thies and family left last Sunday night for a visit to her old home in the east.

Ed Frost and family were in from Mineral Park this week taking in the O. O. F. ball.

Mr. Effie Tarr returned Monday evening from a week's visit to her brother Ewing in Prescott.

J. B. Johnson has been sending some splendid apricots to town from Oak Creek the past week.

There will be no services in the M. E. church tomorrow evening, owing to the absence of the pastor.

Thomas Gilgier, the efficient deputy of White Hills, left for a short trip over Tuesday night.

George M. Bowers has commenced the erection of a residence on his ranch in the western part of town.

Mr. M. A. Gillespie left Monday morning for Kansas, where she will resume some time visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Coon came down from Peach Springs to take in the Odd fellows ball Wednesday evening.

Twenty Wallapai Indians were taken into custody this week as witnesses in selling cases before the U. S. court.

Mr. N. A. Morford and J. J. Hill, two of the delegates to the grand lodge of the Odd Fellows, left for their homes on No.
Wednesday night.

Mr. Hancock, the popular Master of Needles, was in Kingman Monday and enjoyed himself hugely at the ball in the evening.

Mr. Morgan, formerly superintendent of the Needles mill, visited Kingman one day this week. Mr. Morgan was on his way from Denver to Needles.

Hubbs, J. W. Gerritt and J.
Hubbs came in from Prescott on last Wednesday's train. They served Uncle Sam the capacity of grand jurors.

Mr. A. G. Wild, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. N. Cohenour, the past week, went to Needles Thursday morning. Her little niece accompanied her.

Kingman has been almost depopulated by the U. S. deputy marshal the past week. Witnesses, grand and trial jurors have been drawn from the town without number.

The entire criminal business of the U.
S. court was furnished by Mohave county.
The crime committed was that of selling to Indians and the parties who were found guilty were hobos travelling through the country.

Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs were up from Needles this week. Mr. Briggs arrived Wednesday evening and Mrs.
Briggs remained with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Potts.

Bob Frazer was down from Peach Springs this week.

Charles Cummings stopped over in Kingman Wednesday on his way home from White Hills.

R. T. Root came in from San Francisco Thursday night and went out to White Hills yesterday morning.

Hartley Thompson was in Kingman Thursday and Friday of this week from his Coara Springs ranch.

An election for school trustees for this district will be held a week from next Saturday (June 30).

Frank Morrell, deputy U. S. marshal, was in Kingman Thursday subpoenaing witnesses for the U. S. court.

Asa Harris and Stephen Smith returned to Kingman Thursday. They were witnesses before the U. S. grand jury.

It is rumored that Judge Hawkins will sentence a number of U. S. prisoners to confinement in the county jail at this place.

Painter Edwards has finished work on the residence of W. D. Hartley and it is now one of the best looking buildings in town.

J. W. Morgan, County Recorder, has been registering the citizens of Kingman this week. Now is the time to register.

Harry Gentry was in from El Dorado Canyon last Sunday and Monday after supplies for the Southwestern Mining Company.

Richard Taggart and Co. are now supplying the town with luscious apricots.
Peaches will shortly be ripe on his Beale Springs ranch.

Hon. N. A. Morford of the Phoenix Herald and W. D. Morton, of the Mesa Free Press were welcome visitors at the Miner office several times this week.

The little boy of W. D. Hartley has been very sick with inflammation of the bowels this week, but is now in a fair way to recover.

W. C. Parsons, one of the old time mining men of this county stopped over in Kingman for a short time Tuesday to visit some of his old associates. He left on the evening train for the east.

A Mexican, who has been loafing in Kingman the past month, was detected in the act of stealing a watch from Capt.
John Smith, the other morning. He now languishes in the county bastille.

Sam Hill, W. H. Smith, W. D. Morton, Emil Marks, A. H. Beasley and others of the grand lodge delegates departed for home Thursday morning. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with their entertainment in Kingman.

Charles E. Bowers and his amiable wife came in from Prescott Sunday evening, and have had a world of congratulations showered on them. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers will remain at the hotel for some time before going to housekeeping.

Treasurer Mackenzie has been unable to open the cash box of the county safe this week. The cause of the failure of the combination to work is unknown, but it is thought that it is owing to the wheels of the combination getting gummed up.

The U. S. grand jury ignored the charge against James W. Haas, of Mineral Park, there really being no evidence against him. Haas, it will be remembered, was charged with robbing a registered letter of $328 while he was postmaster at Mineral Park.

Twenty-one of Hackberry's people started for the midwinter fair Sunday night. As far as learned the following are their names: W. F. Grounds and three children, John and Ida Hunt, Fred and Fannie Nobman, Mr. and Mrs. W.
J. Connor and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crozier and six children.

The K. L. O. R. T. club was organized last Tuesday night and elected Miss Nora Ealy, president; Mary Tarr, vice president; Miss Marcia Tarr, secretary; Bell Tarr, financial secretary; and Fannie Ealy, treasurer. The club gave a picnic at Hermit cave, yesterday. They report having had a most enjoyable time.

Dell Beebe returned to Jerome Wednesday morning. Dell's many friends in Kingman wish him all the success in the world in his business at that place.
He has had a streak of hard luck the past two years that would have disheartened almost any man on earth, but Dell has battled with it manfully and is sure to come out on top in the end.

The midwinter fair will soon be over.

Ed Harrington, of Bagdad, is visiting friends in Kingman.

John Barry, Jr., came in from the Tennessee mine this afternoon.

Mrs. George S. Briggs is very ill at the residence of her parents in Kingman.

The Hubbs House dining room has been repainted and now looks as cool and inviting as any dining room on the coast.

There is a rumor afloat to the effect that Jack Thomas, a well known miner of this county, has been lost in the mountains near El Dorado Canyon.

The brick for W. H. Lake's new building will probably be burned in Kingman. This is the right kind of business.
Keep all the money at home, if possible.

Ed Burke is making a success of the Hubbs House. Every room is kept full and the table is furnished with the best that can be obtained in the coast markets.

H. B. Hampton came in from Mineral Park this afternoon. He will leave for Prescott in the morning having been summoned as a trial juror before the U.
S. court.

Sheriff Rosborough sold, under foreclosure of mortgage, last Monday, the interests of J. L. Nelson in a saloon building at White Hills and several mining claims at Camp Rustler.

In no part of the country are there more promising veins of ore than right here in Mohave county. The ledges are of good size and the ore all that can be desired. Look over the mines that have produced hundreds of thousands of dollars without the aid of a dollar of outside capital and then show us another country that has done as well.

The populists are to have a meeting at White Hills to-night for the purpose of organizing the party in Mohave county. It is thought a county convention will be called to meet in Kingman on the 4th of July. No regular call has been made, but overtures have been made to several prominent men of the old parties to step to the front and aid in the new work, but so far few have responded.

As our local scribe was passing one of the ranches on the Big Sandy road, the other day, he observed a farmer standing at the foot of an enormous corn stalk, gazing wistfully heavenward. The scribe asked the man what he was looking for and was astonished to learn that the farmer's boy had climbed up the stalk to pick some roasting ears four hours before and that the rapid growth of the plant had carried the boy clear out of sight, although he was "shinning" earth-ward as fast as gravity could propel him through the leafy foliage. Although people may think so, Jeff Bland did not tell us this tale of the marvellous growth of corn on the Big Sandy.

As an evidence of thoughtlessness the following story by Prof. Heimrod takes the bun: Steve Smith and Bob Meara started for Chloride yesterday morning in a wagon, leading a horse equipped with saddle and bridle. When they reached the summit of Coyote Hill the wagon broke down and Mr. Meara had to return to town to have it repaired.
Mr. Smith had urgent business at home and struck out in that direction on foot.
Meara came into town, and, discovering the horse tied to the end of his wagon, exclaimed: "If I had thought of it Steve could have ridden that horse to Chloride." Neither one had thought of the saddle horse they had with them, and the distance Steve had to walk was about twenty miles.

He Raised the Wind.

A sad-eyed, way faring printer dropped into the Miner office, one day this week, and in a husky voice asked for the loan of our office bellows. His request was granted and a few minutes thereafter was found industriously blowing it in front of one of our spiritual dispensaries.
The proprietor, observing the movements of the man, cautiously stepped to the sidewalk and, in agitated tones, asked what he was doing. "My dear sir," the fellow replied, "I am dead broke and am trying to raise the wind." He was taken inside and several large doses of spiritual consolation administered.

O. D. M. Gaddis has done well since opening his new store. He has no partners, hence no division of profits and can always sell cheap. He has pitched his tent to await the rise of silver.

I. O. O. F. Literary Entertainment and Ball.

Wednesday evening Kingman Lodge No. 7, I. O. O. F., gave a literary entertainment and ball to their visiting brothers to which the citizens of Kingman and vicinity were invited. At the commencement of the exercises the courtroom was crowded to its fullest extent.

The literary part of the program was begun with the singing of the opening ode of the order, followed by prayer by Rev. Blakely.

An instrumental quartette, consisting of two mandolins, guitar and piano, by Mrs. F. S. Dennis, the Misses Cowan and Amelia Quinones, was received by the audience with loud applause.

W. D. Morton, editor of the Mesa Free Press, was introduced to the audience and delivered a telling address, his subject being the "Rebekah Degree." Newspaper men are nothing if not gallant and Bro. Morton landed fair women to the skies and left her soaring among the etherial mists of heaven.

A vocal solo, "Pauline," by Miss Ida Goodman, was received by the audience with loud and long applause.

Hon. N. A. Morford was introduced and talked interestingly for about thirty minutes on the good of the order.

Mrs. C. L. Wilson sang the old song, "Marguerite." She has a beautiful voice and the audience appreciated that fact by applauding her to the echo.

Richard Taggart sang, "Thine, Only Thine." Dick sings well and received his share of applause.

Joe Soldini, Tucson's popular hotel man, sang an Italian song and although the audience understood not one word they applauded just the same.

After singing the closing ode the room was cleared and dancing was the order.
About fifty couples participated in the terpsichorean festivities. At midnight the guests repaired to the Hubbs House to partake of an excellent supper, prepared by the new proprietor of that popular hostelry. After supper dancing was kept up until four o'clock in the morning.

Among the ladies present our reporter succeeded in obtaining the names of the following, the gentlemen being entirely overlooked. The Misses Helen Tolman, Bertha Beecher, Helen Blakely, Lilly and Grace Wilson, Lizzie Sherman, Caroline Gross, Maud and Belle Maguire, Florence and Edith Cowan, Lallah and Frankie Potts, Effie Tarr, Minnie Sawyer, Millie Feeler, Overman, Emma, Amelia and Nancy Quinones, Ida and Stella Goodman, Nellie and Bessie Vic-cars.

Mesdames—J. M. Murphy, Foster S.
Dennis, H. H. Watkins, C. L. Wilson, W.
E. Frost, John L. Lynch, Mary E. Harrington, G. W. Beecher, J. C. Potts, J. K.
Mackenzie, C. L. Clymer, O. D. M. Gaddis, J. N. Cohenour, S. S. Watson, J. R. Russell, L. O. Cowan, Ed F. Thompson, R. Taggart, Gideon Cornell, A. S. Coon, and A. G.
Wild.

The dance was one of the best that has been given in Kingman in many years.

A new firm in Tucson has issued a little blank book with the title "What Mark Smith has done." The facitious firm will probably learn that Mark Smith's record is as white as the pages of their book and that no man has labored more faithfully than he for the good of our territory. It seems out of place for a firm like that of Zeckendorf to attempt in an invidious manner to be-smirch the character and standing of an honorable man.

John H. Cofer, Doc. Hammond and Manuel Martinez have been subpoenaed as witnesses in the case of the U. S. against T. B. Shipp, charged with unlawfully fencing in the public domain.

The suits of the relatives of the Italians who were taken from the New Orleans jail and hanged, three years ago, have been decided in favor of the city of New Orleans.

Candidates for office should not be bashful. The other fellow is just waiting for you to make a move and he will follow suit.

Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the Grand Jurisdiction of Arizona, met in the lodge room in Kingman Monday evening for the transaction of routine business. The following lodges were represented by the following named delegates:

Nogales, No. 9—W. J. B. Barnett.
Phoenix, No. 2—N. A. Morford.
Pima, No. 3, Tucson—J. J. Hill, E. P.
Van Kuren, Joe Soldini.

Bisbee, No. 4—Emil Marks, J. W.
Jones.
Flagstaff, No. 11—A. H. Beasley.

Mesa, No. 14—W. D. Morton.
Williams, No. 15—A. S. Coon, A.
Kilgore.

Kingman, No. 7—W. H. Taggart, W.
G. Blakely.
Prescott, No. 1—W. H. Smith, Sam Hill.

Seven lodges were unrepresented.
Tuesday forenoon the election of officers for the ensuing term took place, and the following officers were elected and installed: N. A. Morford, Phoenix, grand master; E. P. Van Kuren, Tucson, deputy grand master; W. J. B. Barnett, Nogales, grand warden; John J. Hill, Tucson, grand secretary and W. H.
Smith, Prescott, grand treasurer.

The following appointed officers were installed: W. D. Morton, Mesa, grand conductor; Emil Marks, Bisbee, grand guardian; and A. H. Beasley, Flagstaff, grand herald.

Al S. Coon, Flagstaff, and E. J. Cook, Globe, were elected as delegates to the sovereign grand lodge.

W. H. Taggart, Kingman, Sam Hill, Prescott, and Joe Soldini, Tucson, were elected trustees.

After transacting all the business usually brought before a grand lodge of the order, an adjournment was had to meet again in Williams on the second Monday in April, 1895.

Morning Blaze.

Last Thursday morning at ten o'clock, the house on Beal and Third streets, owned by Harvey Hubbs, and occupied by Nathan Tarr and George Andrews, was discovered to be on fire. Pistols were fired to attract the attention of the people and everybody made a rush in that direction. It was soon learned that nothing could be done to save the building, but every precaution was taken to prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings. Mr. Andrews was eating breakfast when the fire was discovered, but so rapidly did the flames spread that he found it almost impossible to save any of his or Mr. Tarr's effects.

Three trunks were saved but they were almost empty. Mr. Tarr loses about $100 by the flames and Mr. Andrews loses a less amount. The building was valued at about $500, with no insurance.
Grandpa Peasley had a large portion of his corral fence destroyed.

A lucky feature of the fire was that the day was the first calm one we have had in months. Had the wind been blowing as usual the whole town would have been swept away.

J. J. Chatham has started the Daily Herald in Nogales. Jim is one of the best newspaper men in the territory and we gladly welcome him back into the editorial fold.

O. D. M. Gaddis has never waited to be forced to do the square thing by the people. If all merchants could say as much how different our pockets would be.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint.
I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. DUNAGAN,
